WORKSHOPS

CLASSROOM VISITS

Claudia will travel from classroom to classroom, spending 45 minutes with each, talking about how authors take a story seed to a full-length novel, give historical background of her books, tips on the writing process and provide students with the opportunity to ask questions. This is a highly educational, motivational and inspirational program.

WRITERS' WORKSHOP

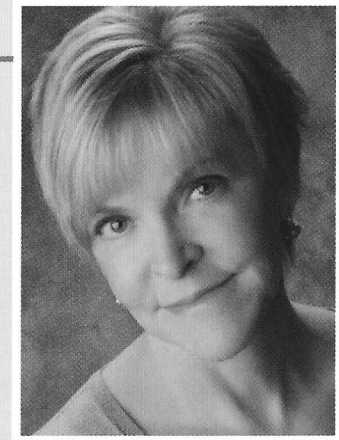

Students will write their own fiction piece from a prompt after a lesson from Claudia, as well as experience the opportunity for author feedback and suggestions to improve their work as well as encouragement and motivation for fiction writers.

EDITING WORKSHOP

Students learn what it takes to edit their work and persevere through the process. Teachers love this workshop, as editing is a necessary part of the writing process which students often skip.

Due to the intimate nature of the workshops, the audience is limited to approximately 75 students. Assembly audience limit to be determined.
